

Carrie Isaac is a fourth-generation Texan, nonprofit leader, wife, mother, and proud conservative who will give our values a powerful voice in the Texas Capitol. Carrie and her husband just celebrated their 19th wedding anniversary and reside in Hays County with their two teenage sons and their dog Daisy.

Carrie has been a Republican leader in House District 45 for many years. She is a founding member of Hays County Republican Women and served as the first Legislative Chair. Carrie was crucial in helping her husband, former State Representative Jason Isaac, defeat an eight-year, million-dollar-funded Democrat incumbent in 2010. She also played a vital role in defeating a Democratic challenger in 2012. Carrie has proudly served as a delegate to the Republican Party of Texas State Convention.

House District 45 needs a representative with mental toughness, strength and endurance. Carrie completed a full-length 140.6-mile IRONMAN. Carrie has what it takes to cross the finish line. She is a true competitor and these skills will help her defeat the Democrat in 2020.

Carrie has a heart for service to Central Texas, where she has lived in Hays County for nearly 15 years. One of her core beliefs is that nonprofits and churches serve those in need more effectively than government. Carrie currently serves as the Executive Director of the Digital Education and Work Initiative of Texas (DEWIT), a nonprofit that connects disabled veterans with digital jobs. Carrie's father and grandfather are veterans, and they instilled in her a desire to give back to those who have sacrificed so much for our freedoms.

Carrie's masters degree in health education and has served her community well advancing health and wellness in Dripping Springs. She served on the Dripping Springs Helping Hands board for over a decade feeding over 100 hungry families a week and is currently on the board of the nonprofit IT'S TIME TEXAS whose motto is, "Texas is best when Texas is healthy." She led Dripping Springs to win first place competing with other communities across the great State of Texas in the IT'S TIME TEXAS Community Challenge as the Chair of the Dripping Springs Mayor's Health and Wellness Council. Additionally, she has been an avid volunteer at her boys' schools over the years. She and her husband started the Dripping Springs youth lacrosse program to pass on lifelong skills and well-being in our next generation of leaders.

Thanks to overwhelming grassroots support, Carrie has outraised all other Republican candidates and the Democratic incumbent combined. Already more than 350 conservative grassroots, business, and community leaders have contributed to her campaign, raising more than $100,000 by the first fundraising deadline. Carrie is proud to have earned endorsements from over 30 current and former elected Republican leaders supporting her candidacy.

Carrie understands that House District 45 is ground zero for the "blue wave" in Texas. Republicans in Texas are only eight seats away from losing the Texas House. Redistricting is coming up in 2021, and Texas legislators will have the power to change state and congressional district lines. Winning this general election will mean the difference between keeping our state red and ceding to the liberal agenda. Carrie has experience defeating Democrats in HD 45 and with the support of conservative Republicans, she will do it again!
